"Château Labegorce has been managed brilliantly by Marjolaine de Coninck since 2009, and she's produced a brilliant-looking 2021. Lots of black raspberry fruits as well as spicy oak, flowers, and dried herbs emerge on the nose, and it's medium-bodied, with terrific overall balance, an up-front, charming mouthfeel, and a great finish. It's beautifully done, and I suspect it's going to drink nicely right out of the gate. The talented Claude Gros also lends his advice here as well."

INSIDE BORDEAUX

91/100

"Powerful, this is enjoyable, cool summer flavours, blueberry, redcurrant that you find widely, but this is accompanied here by luscious, mouthwatering red cherry and blackberry fruits, with plenty of structure and a tannic bite on the finish."

Robert Parker
WINE ADVOCATE

90-91/100

"The 2021 Labegorce is attractive, offering up a perfumed bouquet of cherries, raspberries, orange rind, cedar y spices and smoke, followed by a medium-bodied, fleshy palate with a pretty core of fruit, supple tannins and lively acids."

93/100

"Dark purple colour with violet hue and almost blackcore. Initially closed nose, needs time to open up. Distinct toast in gaud ripe fruit in the background. On the palate rather full-bodied with good length, ripe tannins, juicy character with fine toasting lingering in the finish."

THE WINE CELLAR INSIDER

90-92/100

Mint leaf, espresso, smoke, thyme, Indian spice, flowers and red fruits are found on the nose and palate. Fresh, spicy, medium-bodied and already open, you can start drinking this on release.

"Labegorce is deep garnet-purple in color. It offers up pretty scents of redcurrant preserves, black raspberries, and wilted roses, plus suggestions of stewed black tea, crushed rocks, and wild sage. Light to medium-bodied, the palate is delicately styled, with a light chewiness to the tannins and well-knit acidity, finishing earthy."
